The Quest of His Grace, Duke Izzit

It had be quite a while since Lord Armstrong had seen Hugh Izzit, once Lord, then Baron, now Sir. Although life was far better away from his presence, as Armstrong was passing by the Barony of Banished Minds, curiosity getting the better of him, he thought he'd stop by and see what was happening. He wasn't disappointed, for Hugh Izzit now was wearing a ducal coronet.

"OH! My good, good friend Sebastian! How timely your visit. It has been extremely hectic here. First we have my elevation. I couldn't believe it. I had many successful parties and celebrations for my people, we were able to inform His Majesty we were ready for his return and able to throw him a wondrous feast with entertainment...

"But before the feast began as we were all waiting on His Majesty, he turned to me and stated, 'Is it not customary to hear your grace before we begin?'

"I was at a loss. We had nary a one duke in this part of the kingdom, but then one of my servants, my brightest and most intelligent, pointed out that His Majesty said 'Is it not customary to hear, Your Grace, before we begin?'

"So I rose and spoke and complemented and thanked His Majesty for I could not believe how generous he has been to me for all this hard work, when it truth it has taken all of us from the region to come so far.

"But alas all could be for not, for trouble brews on the boarders and I'm afraid we must rise up to protect our lands and go to war! I know not how to prepare for this. Good, good, Sebastian, could you please help us in our hour of need and lend me some council and advice?"

And so, while smirking much, Sebastian did write upon parchment a new list of things for Hugh to do to prepare for war.

Can you join Hugh on this quest and complete this list of items yourself? Where you are working with or for someone, politely ask that person to print and write their name down on the line of that item to verify it's completion. (ie... once your name is chosen correctly, ask the Pursuivant or assiting Herald to sign on that line next to your persona's name.)
