The Quest of Lord Izzit

The young man, Hugh Izzit, now having made a name for himself, became known by many throughout the town. Yet, now he desired more. He wanted to make friends and find folks who could assist him in his life, learning, and relaxation. So he went to his employer and friend, Lord Armstrong and inquired of him what he should do.

“I have made a name for myself, Sebastian.”

“Really? How do you know you have?”

“Well, everyone in the town seems to know my name, and I’ve achieved the rank of a lord too!”

“Indeed... how did you come by that?”

“I know not, but it’s what everyone calls me now. Whenever I approach their door, I hear them say, “Oh lord, Izzit!”

Lord Armstrong nearly palmed his quill to his face.

“But now that everyone knows who I am, I’m wanting to learn and do more. How do I find out whom I can learn from, with whom I can laugh, and what folks I can serve?”

“In order to discover that, you must first learn who the people are around you.”

And before he too made utterance to reconfirm Hugh’s belief he was granted arms, Lord Armstrong pulled out another piece of parchment and wrote down yet another list for the eager young man.

Can you join Hugh on this quest and complete this list of items yourself? Where you are working with or for someone, politely ask that person to print and write their name down on the line of that item to verify it’s completion. (ie... once your name is chosen correctly, ask the Pursuivant or assiting Herald to sign on that line next to your persona’s name.)
